VILLA AMARYLLIS

SERIFOS, GREECE

Villa Amaryllis offers a rare combination of dramatic Aegean views and lush, varied landscapes. This beautiful stone house subtly located in the midst of the hill, is divided in 4 separate volumes. The white sandy beach of Kalo Ampeli is a five minute walk and is surrounded by amazingly beautiful rocks, you will feel you are looking at a sculpture park. A unique stone house in Serifos invites guests to an authentic Cycladic holiday setting

From the verandas you can see the rocky coastline which is deeply indented with an alteration of coves and bays. Serifos is a typical Cycladic island with white villages, quiet harbours, golden beaches, bare hills and beautiful landscapes. Here you can feel that this island has a unique atmosphere, ideal for a relaxed holiday. The mild tourism growth has not affected the island's nature and traditional features.

LAYOUT

The main house comprises of the living room spaces, decorated in traditional island colors with wooden ceilings; the white and blue kitchen is fully equipped with big working spaces ; the master bedroom beams in the Aegean light and is adjoined by a spacious family suite with 2 separate bedrooms, one of them has bunk beds for our young guests..

The oval shaped pool is located at the lower volume and at the same level there is a guesthouse with 1 double bedroom and a private veranda. Beautifully shaded outdoor dining areas and smaller patios in front of the bedrooms, offer discrete moments of calmness and relaxation.

Several walking paths surround the house, some leading to the beach some leading to the nearby hills; make sure you discover all of them as the views they offer are amazing!
